

ANJALI WELLS

Anjali Wells is an Artist and Art Educator from Laurel, Maryland. She received her Bachelor's degree in Studio Art and her Master's degree in Art Education from the University of Maryland in College Park. Anjali has been working as an Art teacher in Montgomery County Public Schools since 2013 as well as a teaching artist for various arts organizations in the area. She is the founder and President of the non-profit organization Creative Outlets Arts Center in Laurel Maryland seeking to provide the community with access to arts education, resources, and opportunities to use art as healing.

Anjali's work captures her passion for culture, nature, and animals. Her artwork explores the cross sections of her identity as well as capturing the love and beauty in nature. Anjali has become known for her pet portraits which utilize bright colors and rich textures. However you envision your pet can be painted! Royalty? Superstar? No problem!

To request a pet portrait or other commission email Anjali at Anjberry@gmail.com or Message her on Instagram @Anjberry

Follow the artist online and on Instagram

 Etsy.com/shop/anjberry

 anjberry