

CHENG CAO

Cheng Cao is a Chinese artist working and living in Baltimore. Where some artists specialize in one genre of traditional Chinese painting, Cao has mastered many genres, including landscape, flower and bird, animals and portraiture. Having spent many years developing his skills and techniques, Cao uses many approaches in his work, such as free-hand and Gongbi. Cao devotes himself to as many aspects of Chinese art as possible to make him versatile. While concentrating on Chinese tradition, Cao also combines modern elements in his art.

Cao teaches Chinese painting at his studio in downtown Baltimore. Cao believes that the dialogs between Chinese and Americans (or any other cultures) can provide interesting inspirations for his students in their own art creation.
