

REED BMORE

Reed Bmore is a street artist from Baltimore, Maryland. As a street artist, Reed Bmore has been installing wire drawings on the traffic lights and electrical lines around America for the past 7 years. The idea of these installations is to instill a sense of nostalgia and wonderment to the viewer.

A graduate from Maryland Institute College of Art, Reed Bmore earned a BFA in Environmental Design—the study of observing, drafting and finding solutions to spatial problems. From this study, Reed found the negative space in skies to be a suitable canvas for displaying these three-dimensional forms.
